Battle On in Franks Case

Overrules State's Motion to Evidence of Mental Disease

San Francisco, July 30.—Whether insanity constitutes insanity is the question that will be decided today by Judge John R. Lewis in the case of the State vs. John R. Franks.

The defense attorneys, who have been fighting the case since it was brought to court, have been successful in getting the judge to overrule the state's motion to introduce evidence of the defendant's mental condition. The state's motion was based on the fact that Franks had been found guilty of the murder of a woman named Mary Jane Smith.

The judge's decision is a victory for the defense, as it means that the state will not be able to prove that Franks was insane at the time of the murder. The case is expected to continue for several more days.

The defense attorneys are now working to get the judge to grant a new trial for Franks. They believe that the state's case is weak and that Franks is innocent.

The judge's decision is a surprise to many people, as they expected the state to win. The case has been a major news story in San Francisco.

BRITISH RENEW DISPUTE OVER NAVAL GUN RANGE

Formal Protest Against American Modernization Program Before Washington Officials

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Disclosure in London today that the British government has made formal representations to the United States and Japan regarding the modernization of the Washington naval limitation treaty would be a breach of that treaty, gave an entirely new aspect to the discussion of this subject, which has been in progress in this country for two years or more.

The announcement was met with complete silence on the part of officials at the State Department, but at the Navy Department, Secretary Wilbur, speaking on the basis of press reports and not upon any official representations he may have seen, declared that "it is a good idea to have the question raised in order to have it settled."

As far as is known, the Washington government has taken no steps toward replying to the British ultimatum. Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, was transmitted several weeks ago at least. In view of this, it is evident that the Washington government has no reason for urgency in dealing with the situation.

The announced purpose of the Navy Department is to submit to Congress at the next session its full program for modernization of the older battleships of the American Navy. That program includes elevation of turret guns to give them modern battle range, at no time has the Navy Department hesitated to give the question a very extensive study by the general board of all of the proceedings of the Washington conference and its experts' committee, conceded that the provisions of the treaty fairly be interpreted to prohibit the modernization work it has repeatedly recommended to Congress.

The British communication is believed to be based on a provision in Section 1, Part III, of the treaty which prescribes replacement rules and says with reference to existing battleships: "No alterations, side armor, caliber, in number or general type of mounting shall be permitted." Exceptions within the limits made to permit France and Italy to increase their armor protection and the caliber of guns to the treaty limit of sixteen inches were made to permit France and Italy to increase their armor protection and the caliber of guns to the treaty limit of sixteen inches.

Officials familiar with the proceedings of the Washington conference experts' committee, which framed these technical rules embodied in the treaty, have indicated that the rule quoted above was adopted on suggestion of the British experts and for the specific purpose of preventing the rebuilding of old battleships under the guise of reconstruction work. The object aimed at, it has been said, was to make it impossible to replace twelve-inch guns on old ships with sixteen-inch guns, completely changing the military characteristics of the vessel involved.

The phrase "general type of mounting" in the treaty rule would apply in such a case, it is said, as the entirely new mounting would have to be installed to accommodate a gun of larger caliber than that of the weapon for which the original mounting was designed. It is known that the application of the wording in the treaty to the proposed rebuilding of the older battleships would raise the gun elevations on older ships was fully considered by the Navy general board before the original recommendation for modernization was made to Congress.

Secretary of Commerce Joins in Urging That World Flight be Ended at Clover Field

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, now on a vacation in Northern California, has joined Gov. Richardson and other representative Californians, it was learned yesterday, in urging that the round-the-world flight of American Army aviators end at its official starting point—Clover Field, Santa Monica.

Secretary Hoover addressed both President Coolidge and Secretary of the Navy Wilbur on the subject and in his wife to the latter requested that Secretary Wilbur take up the matter with Secretary of War Weeks and attempt to get a reconsideration of a decision by Maj. Gen. Patrick, chief of the air service, designating West Coast as the place for officially ending the world flight.

The intervention of Secretary Hoover was learned coincidentally with a report from Washington that Gen. Patrick, saying that the flight would end officially at Seattle, the fliers would continue to Los Angeles at the starting point. This reported attitude of the air service commander, of course, is in sharp contrast with the earlier decision to alter the world flight program as originally contemplated.

Asserting that the people of California "have rightly considered" this section to be the starting point of the globe-circling flight, Secretary Hoover, in his wife to Secretary Wilbur, said: "It is being reported in California that the world fliers are going to Puget Sound as their westward terminus. As their world flight started from Los Angeles and

It was right at the local ball yesterday. The Angels had won, and consequently were the victors, 9 to 5. The Angels' hired help reserved their part of their night's work for the fourth inning when they won the game for four runs, and enough to win the ball game.

"Ude Blin" Myers toiled through the game, and barely finished. Myers was content to loaf in the fifth and sixth, and when he failed, although he was charged with the defeat, he was not the first thing that came into the mind of the crowd.

Courtney was given an opportunity to make good, this time he failed, although he was charged with the defeat, he was not the first thing that came into the mind of the crowd.

Myers took a temporary leave of the opening half of the game, after Spencer had made the bludge by hitting the pitcher, Jacobs, and the Angels to right, Jacobs swung and came home when the pitcher was in the middle of his stride.

Myers walked three men in the fifth and filled the bases after two were out. The Angels then won the game.

No Upsets in Day's Play of Southern Tourney

Thrilling Matches Scheduled in Sets to Come

BY BILL HENRY

Everything in the Southern California tennis championship play yesterday went strictly according to Hoyle, or whoever the ruling tennis authority is. Everybody who was expected to win did so. Tilden beat Chapin in an exhibition match, a good crowd was out to see the play, most of the folks soaked up a lot of tea during the course of the afternoon and as the papers back in Iowa have it, a good time was had by all.

Which brings us around to the point that the tournament is becoming very exciting. From now on the top-notchers will be bumping into one another in all events and the really classy tennis of the tournament is due. The meetings between Tilden and Goddard in the upper half, Ferrandini and Chapin in the lower half and one or two others should be well worth anybody's time.

Young Mr. Weiner survived the play in the junior end of the tournament by beating Delahide, 6-1, 6-4.

Leonard and Walker Will Decide Welter Dispute in New York, August 21

(BY A. P. MORT WIRE)

NEW YORK, July 30.—Tex Rickard's decision today to hold the welterweight title fifteen-round match between Mick Walker and Benny Leonard in this city on the evening of Thursday, August 21, is considered a noteworthy victory for the New York State Athletic Commission in local boxing circles. The commission had ruled that the bout, which was originally for the same date in Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, must take place in New York, and must be for a decision if Walker fought Leonard before meeting Dave Shaefer.

Walker said he was perfectly satisfied with the new arrangement.

A clause in the new contract stipulating that neither boxer shall engage in any other bout previous to August 31 will prevent the proposed battle between Leonard and Pat Moran at Cleveland on August 11.

HEEL GAVE IN

(BY BRAVEN DYER)

History tells us that Achilles, the famous strong man of the Greeks, was invulnerable in all but the heel of one foot, this spot being as susceptible to injury as that of any mortal because his mother had to hold him by something when she dipped him in the River Styx. Demitry Martynoff, the giant Russian, may or may not have been subjected to the same procedure but it is also a fact that his heel failed to receive the proper treatment.

Last night at the Philharmonic Auditorium the Russian wrestler lost to Stanislaus Zbyszko, mainly because his heel couldn't stand the rough tactics employed by the powerful Pole. Mr. Martynoff had been heeling, or better, still, it was the bulging Bulgarian, Zbyszko, who was awarded the victory.

Don W. McDonald handled all bouts to perfection. Lou Daro, promoter, announced that Ed "Stranger" Lewis, heavyweight champion of the world, would be seen here in a finish match in the near future, meeting either Mondt or Zbyszko.

WOMEN'S WAGE ACT BETTERED

Canadian Employers Pay More Than Minimum

British Columbia Average is High, Report Says

Appoint Feminine Inspector to Visit Factories

(VICTORIA (B. C.) July 30.—Employers of female labor in British Columbia are generally paying their workers at a rate well above the legal minimum prescribed by the Minimum Wage Act, according to the report of the Minimum Wage Board, issued under the authority of Hon. A. M. Manson, Minister of Labor.

The average wage paid for experienced female labor in the Province last year was $17.14 a week, the report shows. While this average does not take account of a small proportion of inexperienced help, or of girls under 18 years of age, it shows for the most part a larger wage than that set as minimum by orders of the board, which ranges from $11.75 to $15.50 a week.

CONFERENCE ON WAGES.—The report, as rendered by the three members of the board, J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor; Mrs. H. G. MacGill and T. Mathews, records as the most important business they had to deal with during the year a conference on the manufacturing industry. Employers' classes under the manufacturing group petitioned for the reopening of an order making $14 a week the minimum wage for female workers in such industries. The result of the conference was a unanimous recommendation to retain the $14 weekly minimum for a working week of forty-eight hours.

The board refers to an important change in the work of administering the act. With a view to securing a more complete observance of the orders of the board, the decision to appoint a woman inspector to visit factories and places of business where women are employed was approved by the Minister of Labor, on the recommendation of the Deputy Minister, and Mrs. Winifred Mathews, of Vancouver, was duly appointed to this position. As the duties involved some amount of co-operation with the factory inspection branch of the department, the Vancouver office of the Minimum Wage Board was moved from the Vancouver Block to the Courthouse, with Mrs. Mathews in charge.

EMPLOYED PROSECUTED.—"As it is now felt that the conditions of employment laid down by the Minimum Wage Act should be familiar to employers, there has been less reluctance than formerly in pressing for the legal penalty when it was found that there had been infractions of the act," says the report. "In several instances information have resulted in cases being taken into court."

The average working week of female employees in all industries is 43.21 hours, ranging from 40.7 in the personal service occupation to 49.12 in the fishing industry. "With the raising of the age at which boys and girls may enter industry to fifteen years to correspond with the compulsory school age," the report concludes, "the protection of the prospective mother from dismissal for six weeks before and six weeks after confinement (with provision for nursing period,) and the Women's Protective Act designed to safeguard the moral well-being and prevent the exploitation of women and girls, British Columbia is well in the forefront in labor legislation for the benefit of women and children."

Banks' Deposits in Arizona Give Proof of Thrift

(PHOENIX, July 30.—State Banking Superintendent A. T. Hammons declares that Arizonans are thrifty folks. He based his statement on figures that $8,845 individuals are depositors in State banks and he is assuming that almost as many have accounts in National banks, which are beyond his purview.

Inasmuch as the State has less than 400,000 population, and a considerable number of its residents are Indians and aliens, he believes it safe to say that the individual accounts amount to one for every two residents, without regard to age.

Most of the accounts, $2,900, are of the checking variety, the other $5,945 being in savings banks or branches. Demand deposits at the time of the last call aggregated $22,810,582 and savings deposits to $12,595,808.

Loans made by the State banks aggregated $21,706,030. Resources and liabilities were balanced at $52,626,377.

DAM ON SALT RIVER AUTHORIZED BY VOTE

(PHOENIX, July 30.—Farmers of the Salt River Valley have by a large majority authorized officers of their association to erect the proposed Horne Mesa hydroelectric power dam on Salt River, seventeen miles below Roosevelt, at a cost of $4,400,000, with approval of a contract entered into with the Inspiration Copper Company for power sales at a minimum price of $148.000 per annum.

HOSPITALS SURRENDER TO "BOBS"

Impending Nurse Famine Causes Denver Ban Upon Short Hair Lifted

(DENVER, July 30.—Facing a nurse famine in training schools and hospital wards and rooms, the ultimatum recently issued by a number of Denver hospital superintendents that nurses or probationers with bobbed hair would be dropped from lists and not have been rescinded, and bobbed hair for nurses is now the prevailing local mode.

"We found that if we were to care adequately for the sick, the rule against bobbed hair must be abolished," said Mrs. Beadie Haskins, superintendent of nurses at the General Hospital. "The rule was made because bobbed hair is so unprofessional looking, so far as nurses are concerned. But at last we considered only the essential factor, that was the welfare of patients entrusted to our care. The nurses who have bobbed hair are asked to wear nets."

The netted bob is also de rigueur at St. Luke's Hospital, where it is said "a definite order against bobbed hair for nurses never has been made, so could not be rescinded."

St. Joseph's Hospital nurses may go bobbed, but nets are suggested as tending to produce a more professional effect below the cap. Children's Hospital nurses have never adopted the bobbed coiffure, so the order at no time in its troubled career affected them.

Federal Jurist Clears Way for Smelter Trials

(SALT LAKE CITY, July 30.—In Federal court, Judge P. C. Jacobs has swept aside many technical motions and demurrers and apparently has left the way open for trial on their merits of the "smelter suits" brought against the United Verde Copper Company and the United Verde Extension Copper Company by W. A. Jordan and others. The plaintiffs are farmers in the Verde Valley, below Clarkdale and Clemens, locations of the smelting plants of the defendant corporations.

Damages aggregating about $22,000 are asked because of alleged destruction of crops by fumes from the smelter stacks.

This case is the second of the sort filed locally. In the first the plaintiff farmers obtained a technical judgment.

India Revolt Threaten Death Orgy in Bengal

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) CALCUTTA, July 30.—The revolutionists in Bengal appear to be preparing a campaign of outrage similar to that of 1915-16. Police heads, high court judges, newspaper editors and others today received a circular signed by the prince council of Red Bengal which follows:

"The public is hereby informed that the Bengal revolutionary council has passed a resolution ordering a campaign of ruthless assassination of police officers, and anyone obstructing the comrades or giving evidence against them will be immediately dispatched."

The document is headed by a crude picture of the Hindu goddess Kali, the destroyer, slaying Europeans.

Boy in Chicago Has Same Death as Coolidge Son

(CHICAGO, July 30.—A blister on his heel, resulting in blood poisoning, the same misfortune that caused the death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., son of President and Mrs. Coolidge, today caused the death of Dewey Daugherty, 14 years of age, son of Mrs. Winifred Daugherty, 837 West Fifty-third street.

Young Daugherty's heel was blistered a week ago when he scraped it while pushing a hand truck in a Southside laundry where he was working during this school vacation period. An infection set in and he was taken to St. Bernard's Hospital, where he died early today.

Besides his widowed mother, he is survived by two sisters and five brothers.

Flames Wrap Finest Ship of Mexican Navy

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) YERLA CRUZ, July 30.—The Mexican cruiser Anahuac, which was acquired recently from Brazil and is the most modern vessel of the Mexican navy, caught fire in the harbor Tuesday. The spectacular blaze burned for several hours before it was brought under control. The extent of the damage is not known, but it is believed the ship will be tied up for some time for repairs.

GASOLINE TAX RECEIPTS GAIN

Revenue on Car Fuel 20 Per Cent Greater

Given for Quarter Which Ended June 30

Produced $3,737,093.74 During Three Months

(REUTERS DISPATCH) SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Revenue of the State from gasoline during the quarter ended June 30, was $3,737,093.74, or 20 per cent more than during the previous quarter, it was announced today by the State Board of Equalization.

The first six months of this year, a total of $6,443,740.17 was yielded by the gasoline tax.

The tax collected last quarter totaled upon 184,804,948 gallons of motor fuel. The amounts collected by the four largest companies were as follows: Standard Oil Company, $2,921,641.17; Shell Oil Company, $448,983.86; Esso Oil Company, $454,134.17.

A considerably larger amount is expected by equalization board for the next quarter, which ended September 30, due to the heavier travel of California and tourists during the summer months.

The large increase during the quarter compared with the previous quarter, board members were partially caused by the State's policy of rejecting certain bids for exemption on contracts for the reason that it believed the contracts, being for a large scale of prices, not available under the terms of the law.

A new pending in the Los Angeles courts against the Richmond Company for the petroleum of exemption rights. This company takes exemption in 1,000,000 gallons delivered during the last quarter, but request for exemption has been denied by the board of equalization.

EMPLOYEES PREVENT SPREAD OF FLAMES

(REUTERS DISPATCH) SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Imperting money valued at thousands of dollars, was broken out at the Western Orange Company, local report today morning, causing a fire in the interior of the oil refinery, which had a record run to work.

The blaze started from oil bottles on a table being prepared for a situation. Within a few seconds the interior of the oil refinery, which is located within the factory, was a mass of flames.

Employees who are constantly drilled in safety, kept the blaze from spreading until the fire department arrived. The damage was confined to the wooden portion of the building, and the refinery is now being charred.

BLAST FOR BENEFIT OF JURY

Little Bottles of Nitroglycerine in Safe-cracking Trial Drown Laughs of Scoffers

Three small bottles figured yesterday in a thriller that started in Superior Judge Collier's court, attained its climax at a lonely spot in Griffith Park and which, besides furnishing considerable suspense, proved out the old saw that the last laugh is usually the longest grieve. The bottles were the chief exhibit in the case of Homer France and Jack Black, charged with safe-cracking.

Capt. Felix, explosive expert of the police department, testified the bottles said to have been found in the defendants' cars contained nitro-glycerine.

After much argument, Judge Collier granted permission for the court to adjourn to Griffith Park, where the fluid would be tested.

PAID TO FIRE

With the court and jury at a discreet distance, Capt. Felix poured a small portion of each bottle's contents into a pan and rigged it up with a detonator. He connected the detonator with a wire about 100 yards long and advised the judge and jury to hold their ears.

The first tag at the wire failed to explode. The second, however, marked "throat gurgles" on the bottles.

"Ha, ha," chorled Attorney Stutman, counsel for the defense. The second likewise was followed by silence.

"Ho! ho!" roared Stutman, "let me have some of that, I've got a sore throat. Ho, ho, he pulled the wire a third time.

This time Stutman's roars were loud and clear. Portions of the landscape were hurled hundreds of feet away and particles of the terrain showered upon the judge and jury.

FEW PRESENT

Yesterday was the second time the three bottles figured in the case. Tuesday the attendance at the case was rather limited because of Capt. Felix's apparently nonchalant manner of handling the explosive. One of the court attendants, Miss Gene Campbell, court reporter, who on Tuesday admitted she was not afraid of the bottles, said she was not sure if a mouse, was absent at yesterday's session.

The only other witness yesterday was Police Officer Pruett, who testified he obtained a confession from the accused by the use of the case was continued until today. The case is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist. Atty. Ostrom and Ryan.

FIREMEN'S NEW HOME IS OPENED

Headquarters Building is Dedicated by Officials as Crowd Hears Addresses

The new headquarters of the Los Angeles Fire Department at Second and Hill streets was opened formally last night with Mayor Cryer, Chief of Police Heath, Fire Chief Scott, members of the City Council and other city officials present. The new structure is a four-story building of reinforced concrete, housing two fire companies, two truck companies, one salvage company, one hose company and one foamite company, in addition to being headquarters for the entire fire department. The building also houses the Fire Prevention Bureau.

The structure was paid for out of the $1,500,000 bond issue voted two years ago by the City Council for a new fire headquarters and twenty-one fire stations. Brief addresses were made by Mayor Cryer, Police Chief Heath, Chief Scott, Assistant Fire Chief David and State Fire Marshal Stevens. In which the history of the local fire department was sketched and plans made for co-operation on all sides with the fire department for the good of the city.

Chief Scott declared the new building is modern in every respect and second to none in the country. A feature of the opening was a brief address by Jacob Kuhrtz, the first fire chief of Los Angeles, who died in 1914. Mr. Kuhrtz contrasted the crude, slow methods of those days with the splendid equipment of today.

CATTLE FINANCE PLAN EXPLAINED

State Scheme to Pay Disease Losses Disclosed

Chief of Foot-and-Mouth Fight Asks Forest Closed

New Outbreak Reported from Los Angeles County

(BY A. F. MONT WIRE) SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Methods favored by the State Department of Agriculture for raising money to indemnify owners of livestock whose animals have been slaughtered in the campaign to eradicate the foot-and-mouth disease were explained in a statement issued here today by Director G. H. Hecke, following a series of conferences with Gov. Richardson.

Efforts are to be made immediately to secure additional advances from banks to take care of livestock men who are in urgent need of funds for restocking purposes, but wherever possible, the statement says, the livestock owner, if his financial condition warrants, will be asked to wait until the legislature appropriates money to compensate him.

In furtherance of the plan, Hecke, early this week, plans to move to Indianapolis, national Legion headquarters, in December, and that its first issue from that city will be the Christmas number.

The Legion Weekly, whose readers include practically the entire membership of the American Legion, was established as the official organ of that organization.

Mr. Smith, "it is operated on a nonprofit basis and all the members of its personnel are former service men. It is governed by a board of fourteen directors, which meets quarterly and decides on the policies of the publication.

During his stay here Mr. Smith will attend the convention of California Legion members to be conducted at Santa Cruz moon as the representative of John R. Quinn, national commander of the organization. He spoke highly of Mr. Quinn as head of the Legion, stating the organization had flourished during his administration of its affairs. Among other things, he said the budget had been reduced from $127,000 to the amount required for maintaining the Legion last year.

Jackie Coogan Is Given Send-Off by Kiwanis Club

Jackie Coogan was guest-extraordinary at yesterday's Kiwanis Club luncheon at the Biltmore. The first event of a city-wide program starting him on his tour through American cities and overseas for the Near-East Relief.

Jackie said, "I am her to thank you all for helping with my campaign to take a $1,000,000 food ship to the ragged, hungry kiddies of the Bible lands."

The club presented him with a mighty coin bag for use in collecting relief funds along the way to New York.

The sending of a telegram urging Kiwanis clubs in eighteen eastern cities to co-operate with Jackie's crusade was voted by the local club. The message will go to the following cities: Albuquerque, N. M.; Hutchinson, Topeka, Lawrence, Kan.; Kansas City, Mo.; Chicago, Indianapolis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Syracuse, Albany, New York City, Newark, Boston and New Haven.

Jackie will leave here Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock over the Santa Fe.

INDUSTRY FACES TRYING SITUATION

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE) ORANGE, July 30.—The lemon industry is confronted by one of the most trying situations in years, according to E. R. Collier, manager of the Central Lemon Growers' Association, Villa Park, largest exclusive lemon packing plant in the State, who in a statement to growers, declared that adverse market conditions are playing havoc with the fruit, much of which is facing decay in storage.

"It has been a long time since the lemon industry has seen such a deplorable condition," he said, "there has been an exceedingly heavy crop, the marketing of which has encountered almost every adverse condition possible."

EDUCATOR GETS LEAVE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) FLAGSTAFF (ARIZ.) July 30.—Unable to retain President L. B. McCallister, the Board of Education of the Northern Arizona Normal School has granted the educator a year's leave of absence, in the hope that he may be induced to return thereafter. He has accepted a position in the Teachers' College of Columbia University.

MODERATOR RECALLS VISIT

Dr. Macartney Tells of California in Nineties and Pays Tribute to Dr. David Barrows

Dr. Charles Edward Macartney, pastor of the Arch-street Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, who first came to California in the '90s, spending a winter at Redlands and then two years in the preparatory school of Pomona College, is being entertained at Pasadena by Dr. John Willis Baer, a former moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Macartney is moderator of the General Assembly, chairman of the general council and the author of several religious books.

RECALLS DAYS HERE

Discussing former years in this State, Dr. Macartney recalled his days at Pomona College and paid a tribute to Dr. David Barrows, then on the staff at Pomona and afterward president of the University of California. The pastor also told of a relay team of which he was a member.

"I have been greatly refreshed by my visit to the synods of Arizona and California and deeply impressed with the spirit of earnestness and brotherhood which obtains. These synods have many lessons they can teach us in the East as to attendance, enthusiasm and capable handling of the problems of the church. The character and personnel of the commissioners are obviously of a high order and represent the best traditions of the Presbyterian Church."

STANDS FOUR-SQUARE

The Presbyterian Church, through its recent meetings of the highest court of the church, the General Assembly, has declared to the world its complete allegiance to the historical doctrinal and confessional standards of the church, and that it expects full and unfaltering loyalty on the part of its ministers and elders.

"This testimony and witness to the creed of the church are not for the sake of any Presbyterian peculiarities but for the sake of those great evangelical truths and facts upon which the whole church is founded, and without which there can be no Christianity. The Presbyterian Church stands where it has always stood, for the Christianity of redemption through the sacrifice of a divine Christ for the sins of the world."

Trial of George H. Oswald and Dick Castle, who are charged with violating the State Wage Law in refusing to pay wages to members of the ill-fated Mile. Magnificent Company, was set for September 24 next, in Police Judge Chamber's court. The defendants appeared yesterday and pleaded not guilty. Jury trial was waived. Five complaints have been made out against Oswald and Castle for the nonpayment of wages amounting to $500 in each case. Both defendants are under $2500 bond. The State Labor Department is prosecuting the charges on behalf of the members of the theatrical company.

GAIN SHOWN IN FINES BY CITY COURTS

Penalties Collected by Police Tribunals in Year Increase $366,760

Police Court fines collected during the fiscal year ending June 30 last, amounted to $1,244,444, an increase of $266,760 over the previous year. Mayor Cryer yesterday reported to the City Council in his annual report. The records of the police courts showed a large increase in the number of cases handled over the previous year, there being 118,537 persons charged with lawbreaking, of which 105,094 were convicted and 1451 cases still pending.

The records of the police department for the year showed 105,314 arrests, of which 7477 were for felonies. Of the total cases in Police Court $0,983 were for traffic-law violations, 13,708 for violation of other city ordinances, 15,527 for violation of State laws, 6174 for violations of the Wright prohibition enforcement law, $944 for gambling and 1253 for prostitution.

The total expense of the Mayor's office for the fiscal year, including the Mayor's salary of $3800 a year, salaries of secretaries and expenditures for equipment and supplies, was $28,753.31.

During the year the Council adopted and presented to the Mayor 2546 ordinances, of which the Mayor signed 2530, and returned sixteen to the Council without his approval.

PAIR HIDING AT FOLSOM ARE HUNTED

Los Angeles and Alameda Convicts Thought Waiting for Chance to Flee

(BY A. F. MONT WIRE) SACRAMENTO, July 30.—Every available guard is on duty tonight and the prison searchlights are playing on the walls of the penitentiary searching for William Albertson and Albert Stewart, alias Sanders, who are believed to be hiding somewhere on the walls of the Folsom Penitentiary.

When the prisoners were called in for dinner tonight, the absence of the two men have not escaped the eyes of the guards, and a search was commenced. Warden Smith announces he is certain the men have not escaped from the yard and that they are waiting for an opportune time at night to scale the walls and break in for the rugged country surrounding the prison. The two convicts are regarded by prison officers as desperate characters. Albertson is serving a life sentence for robbery committed at Alameda in 1921 and has served other sentences.

Stewart was convicted of burglary in Los Angeles county several years ago and recently escaped from a road camp. He fled into Oregon and was captured there, but managed to escape from officers while being returned to Folsom prison.

He was next heard of in Texas, where he was arrested for passing fictitious checks. While being returned here he attempted to seize a guard's revolver and was shot during the scuffle. He was in a hospital in Los Angeles for a number of months and was returned here last April.

SEES COOLIDGE ELECTION SURE

Governor of Michigan Says
Deadlock is Unlikely

Declares La Follette Ticket
Lacks Support in State

Finds No Enthusiasm Among Democrats for Davis

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)
WASHINGTON, July 30.—Belief that the voters of the country would not permit such circumstances to arise as would make necessary election of the next President by Congress was expressed here today by Gov. Alexander J. Groesbeck of Michigan.

"The people of this country will not stand for the coming election being thrown into Congress," Gov. Groesbeck said. "They will not spend the time, money and energy usually required in a national campaign, and then see the election go to Congress and finally have the Senate select some one for President they would never have voted for under any circumstances for the high office."

The Michigan Governor made his statement after an hour's conference with President Coolidge.

Mr. Groesbeck said he had given Mr. Coolidge most encouraging news as to Republican success in his State.

"There is no necessity for any great campaign in Michigan," the Governor said. "The thing was set when Coolidge received his great vote in the spring primaries. There is no enthusiasm among the Democrats for John W. Davis, not because of any weakness on the part of Mr. Davis, but the Democratic voters of Michigan did not think the New York convention was representative of the best in the party and had no confidence in the way it was managed, in the way it attempted to solve its problems, or in the way it finally made its selection of candidates."

Senator La Follette, as the independent candidate for President, would poll some votes, but not develop any considerable strength in Michigan, the Governor said, adding that he had found a disposition among voters in his State to discount the third party matter, realizing that no third party candidate can be elected.

REPUBLICANS PLAN

"AFFIRMATIVE" FIGHT

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)

CHICAGO, July 30.—The Republican party leaders will depend on an "affirmative campaign" and leave the "defensive and denigrating" to the opposition, according to a statement today.

The statement added:

"The conference I have had since I arrived in Chicago a week ago today have convinced me of the campaign organization in the Middle West and Northwest approaching August 1 in a condition of vigorous growth."

"I have conferred in Chicago with party and non-party leaders in these sections of the country and I consider the outlook exceedingly good."

"The extent of the general information about President Coolidge is large and encouraging. In the matter of labor, for instance, callers seem to know that as Governor of Massachusetts he took the liberal, forward-looking view in regard to such measures as an anti-monopoly bill, a bill providing for direct senatorial elections, woman suffrage, improved working conditions for women, factory surgical equipment, shorter terms of work for women and children and numerous other bills which have had the wholehearted support of labor. I feel that the people of the Middle West know about this record."

GREAT RALLY TO

MARK NOTIFICATION

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, July 30.—President Coolidge's formal notification of his nomination, to take place here August 14, is going to be the greatest Republican rally of the campaign, the Republican National Committee says in a statement tonight outlining the plans.

The notification will be in Continental Memorial Hall, national home of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Seats for only 1700 are available within it, but outside thousands will gather on the lawn and listen to the ceremonies through loud speakers.

Chairman Butler of the National Committee will be in active charge and guests will include notable men from all over the country, including a dozen or more governors.

Similar plans are under way for the notification of Charles G. Dawes at his home in Evanston, Ill., August 15.

President Coolidge is being urged by his advisers to take a vacation after he is notified. He has insisted that he would remain here through the summer, but his friends now fear that the strain of being at his post almost continuously for a year, together with the natural worry during a campaign and the death of Calvin Jr., may prove too much for him.

DAVIS LEAVES FOR

NEW YORK AFTER REST

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)

ABOARD BAR HARBOR EXPRESS, ELIZABETH, N. J., July 30.—Ready for his great political adventure, John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential nominee, is speeding back to New York tonight after two weeks of rest in the island of Ponoboc Bay. In the early stages of his journey several wayside receptions were held with formal affairs at both Rockland and Bath.

Upon his arrival in New York tomorrow morning, Mr. Davis will go direct to his personal headquarters in a u-town hotel. He first will receive a report from his campaign manager, Mr. Walter D. Roper, one of the McAdoo pre-convention leaders, and Walker D. Hines, former director-general of railroads.

LONG ARM OF JUSTICE GETS MAN

Mounted Police Bring Native From Arctic Circle
to Face Charges

(REUTERS DISPATCH)

PORT MCMURRAY (Alta.) July 30.—At the trial of the Eskimo, Ikalplak, held at Akilvik by Judge Dubuc, the native was found guilty of manslaughter and was sentenced to five years' imprisonment, according to word which reached here by the steamship Athabasca River.

Ikalplak was arrested by the Royal Northwest Mounted Police more than a year ago in the Coronation Gulf district on a charge of murder, and had been held at the Herschel Island station awaiting trial. Owing to the easier access to Akilvik, at the mouth of the Mackenzie River, by boat, he was taken there for trial.

Like the trial held on Herschel Island last summer, when two Eskimos were sentenced to death, the traditions of Canadian justice were followed, the prisoner being defended by counsel and given the same opportunities to plead his case as those accused in the courts of the "outside" world. Witnesses were brought from Coronation Gulf by the mounted police patrol boat, and Judge Dubuc of Edmonton, a stipendiary magistrate for the northwest territories, made the long trip by river steamer, accompanied by a party from Edmonton.

It was Judge Dubuc's second trip to bring law of the white man to the Eskimos of the Arctic regions. He presided at the Herschel murder trial last summer.

Warning Out in Texas to Check Anthrax Spread

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)

AUSTIN (Tex.) July 30.—Warning that the outbreak of anthrax in Southeast Texas is proving serious and that every precaution must be taken was issued today by Dr. Leon G. Cloud, state veterinarian of the Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas.

Anthrax is so quickly spread that its presence in any section is dangerous to the entire State, according to Dr. Cloud.

The area under quarantine is composed of Orange, Hardin, Jefferson and Liberty counties.

GYPSY LANGUAGE

Numerous Dialects But All Are Basically the Same

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)

"Listen," said Chaney Lee, an American gypsy of the old sort. "I don't jin to rokkr bute in the Romani tongue—I don't know how to talk much gypsy. But I talks it to the chaves—children—like my folks talks it to me. It ain't proper for a Romanichal not to rokkr Romanes. It ain't religious."

Chaney speaks Romanes like other recent arrivals of the English gypsy, with little regard for the confusion of verb and with a rich alloy of English words. His vocabulary is not so copious as that of his cousins in certain other countries, but he knows enough original words and forms to make himself understood after a fashion among the Romanes of Hungary, Russia and even Turkey. If he has difficulty in conversing with foreign gypsies it is because of dialect variations. The language is basically the same.

Romanes is not thieves' slang or robber jargon, as many suppose, but an original and distinct language. It resembles Sanskrit. How ancient it is, no one knows. During centuries of wandering, many Persian, Armenian, Greek, Wallachian and Magyar words became incorporated in it, but enough original words remain in it to show its origin.

The body was first seen by Guy Dixon, 239 Temple avenue, who notified the pulmotor squad of the fire department.

George Marshall, a life guard at the bath house, attempted to interfere, according to the firemen, when they tried to revive the man with a pulmotor. This was said to be the result of ill feeling between life guards and members of the pulmotor squad over methods used in resuscitating drowning persons. Dr. George Coulehard pronounced the man dead, and the body was taken to the undertaking parlor of Cote and Coffey, pending an inquest. It was stated by Dr. Coulehard that the man had probably died from heart failure while in the water.

In the locker rented by the man were found several Pacific Electric tickets from Los Angeles to Alhambra. The police of the latter city have been asked to investigate.

MACHINES MAKE NATION'S BREAD

Housewives Supplanted by Scientific Methods

Future Bakers to Come With College Training

History of Industry Dates to

BY FREDERIC J. WARREN (SPECIALIST DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, July 26.—Bread makers of the future will be agricultural college graduates, according to the prediction of W. L. Ward, who holds the picturesque title of "the world's largest baker." Presumably they covered with D. B. —bachelor of baking.

"Scientific research already has developed the entire baking industry to such a point that baking now is a strictly scientific process," says Mr. Ward. "A college student who has taken chemistry, bacteriology, and subjects relating to cereals and fermentation; and who has supplemented this study during his summer vacations, the ideal baker—and he will be the baker of the future."

This sounds as if mother were about to lose her traditions, supremacy as a breadmaker. The fact is that in comparison with the bread baker, the cake baker in this country, little homemade bread is baked any more. No many years ago only 10 per cent of the bread in the United States came from a baker's shop. Bread-making was regarded as one of the great home arts of America. But by 1918, statistics from the United States Census Bureau show that more than two-thirds of the families ate bakery bread, and the bakers had even invaded country homes, making the home bakery here made rapid advance-now being turned out by commercial bakers. Mr. Ward, who thinks that the industry is in its infancy, says that the average baker produces an average of more than 1,000 loaves a day.

POMPEII HAD BAKERIES

Baking has been a business almost from the beginning of civilization. Public bakeries date back at least to the time of the second century B. C. There came the bakeshops of old Pompeii with their trademark bread, 1,800 years ago. Romaine bakers' shops have been found in modern times in the excavation of the buried city of Pompeii.

In the middle ages in England the making of white bread was an important public utility, and White bread had first been used in church services, and it became a household word. Priests began to sell unconsecrated church bread to nobles and wealthy merchants. As white bread increased in popularity, the supply from convents and monasteries was no longer adequate. Bakers were built in the houses of the nobility, and the baker and his shop became known as the lady because of her duties in connection with the loaf.

At the beginning of the fourteenth century, baking had begun to be a tradesman's business, and there was a bakers' guild in London. Rules about bread continued to be strict. For example, could not bake bread. He could, however,

With flour and other materials and the servant could not reach the oven, he baked in the shop ovens and carry the loaves back to the inn.

ALL MACHINES NOW

Until the last quarter of a century, the baker's trade was conducted almost as simply as in ancient times. The machinery was unchanged in principle. Finally machinery and science began to revolutionize the business. Today, the long up-to-date bakery, bread is mixed, baked, and turned out neatly wrapped, all without its ever being touched by human hands.

The machinery in one of these plants works with a swiftness, precision, and mystery that in-

Efficiency in one of these bakeries starts back at the beginning of the process. The bakers in Romania, Czechoslovakia, who have been studying industries in this country said that his people would never consent to eat bread made in a factory where the machinery is so suggestive of magic.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Bond Trading Lags

NEW YORK, July 30.—(By A. P. MONT WIRE)

Profits-taking and a transfer of speculative interest to the stock market today halted the forward movement of bond prices. Shifting cross-currents gave the market an unsettled tone, although fluctuations mainly were confined to narrow limits.

Several Liberty bonds were carried to new high levels when the advance in United States government obligations were renewed of the opening of today's trading. A substantial reaction, however, forced prices from 1 to 1-1/2 lower. Another selling movement in St. Paul Railroad issues was attributed to profit-taking which was general throughout the speculative rail section. Losses of a point or more were recorded by the road's active lines.

Following are closing quotations on bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange, furnished by Lippert & Ryan, 200 South Spring street.

Judge Denies Plea for Alimony Because of Her Mate's Lack of Income

Despite her protests that she is without a dime to her name, Mrs. Estelle Seaford Faustett, whose husband in a divorce complaint asserted she kept from four to twelve dogs in their home, will have to provide for herself and such dogs as she decides to maintain pending trial of the suit, Judge Guerin ruled after hearing a petition for temporary alimony.

James G. Faustett, the husband, told Judge Guerin that he was no better able to support his wife and her dogs than she was to support herself and her dogs.

Campers Tell of Quarrel as Motor Car Sped Past Machine Reported Stolen by Los Angeles Man

Whether lives were lost in the wreck of an automobile that was found early yesterday in the surf at the foot of a 250-foot cliff near Malaga Cove, five miles south of Redondo Beach, was being investigated by Deputy Sheriff Weir and Chief of Police Henry of Redondo Beach.

That there might have been some one in the machine and that their dead bodies have been washed out to sea is indicated, it is said, in the statements of three men who camped Tuesday night near the spot where the machine went over the cliff.

Quarrel in Auto
In the machine, the men said, were several persons. One man in the car, the trio declared, appeared to be quarreling with the others. At one point, it was said, one of the occupants of the car shouted, "Let's run it over the cliff."

Owned in Los Angeles
Ownership of the machine was traced to Sam Fletcher, 1123 Colton street, Los Angeles, who reported it had been stolen Tuesday night. It is probable, the officers say, that the thieves stole the car for a joyride and decided later to get rid of it.

McClintock, who is the chief of the Bureau of Municipal Research at Harvard University, is to co-operate with the city department in its efforts to study the congestion in the city and had been invited to address the meeting on the relation of the street tram and community property.

McClintock's luncheon was the first of a series of similar functions that have been given every other week by the Chamber of Commerce during the past several months. The next several meetings were announced by Frederick J. Long, who added that the Chamber's meetings would be resumed in the fall.

MINENT STAFF GUESTS

The meeting was made the occasion for saying good-by to members of the One Hundred and Sixteenth California Infantry, known as the Los Angeles regiment, who will leave for Del Monte tomorrow for their weeks' training period. The commander of the regiment, Col. John F. Story, and his staff were guests of honor, Col. Story being one of the principal speakers on

He briefly outlined briefly the history of the formation of the National Guard and pointed out its place among the country's military forces. He stated that the One Hundred and Sixtieth now numbers 10,000 men in Los Angeles and is one of the units of the force of 100,000 men, which comprise the strength of the National Guard throughout the country and

It is not so much the aim to train these thirty soldiers of the army as to train them in "citizenship," he said. "Give me a soldier for two weeks each summer and I will give you back a more representative citizen of the state. You will be proud."

RECORD ENROLLMENT
 Mr. Berry added that this year a number of men who will go to the campment from Los Angeles made that of any former and suggested that he took a sign that there is a union on the part of the people that the National Guard is a dominant part in the life of the community.

Col. Story, a brief talk was made by Guy McLaughlin, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Houston, Tex., who informed the audience that he had come here primarily to sell House lots in Los Angeles but had himself been sold on the advantages of this city. He said Houston is following in the footsteps of Los Angeles in its efforts to develop a harbor, stating that though the city is located fifty miles from the Gulf of Mexico, it is

Mr. McClintock has succeeded in establishing a waterway to the ocean by enabling liners to dock virtually within the city limits. In his talk on the traffic problem of Los Angeles, Mr. McClintock emphasized the importance of keeping open all the arteries of cooperation in the business center of the city in order to prevent interference with the commerce of the city.

He pointed out that the economic continuities in the down town districts are the inevitable result of the development of a multiplicity of thriving business centers in the outlying districts, and that the concentration of a centralized metropolis would resolve itself into a group of small towns.

TRAFFIC IMPERATIVE

McClintock called attention to the fact that at the present time streets here are used for many purposes besides the one for which they were designed, mentioning, among other things, advertising, storage of building materials, and the use of streets as

The Woman and Her Job

(Questions concerning the problems of women will be answered in this column if addressed to Mrs. Watson at the Times. Requests for personal replies must be accompanied by a stamped envelope.)

WOMEN AND WOMEN

"Lack of adaptability is the big handicap of the mature woman," said a writer the other day in discussing her experiences in employing secretaries. "I've persisted because I wanted some woman who could be a companion as well as a secretary, and the young, plant creature doesn't quite fit my needs. Of course, I'll find the right person one of these days, but I've had quite a procession in the last year, and inability to adapt herself is the outstanding fault of the mature one."

That seems like a pretty severe criticism. In looking back over the women I've known I'm afraid there's a good deal of truth in it. Women are so individual inherently that it shows more, perhaps, in the mature than it does in the younger element. When we've had a lot of experience, we're prone to base our actions on it, rather than on the wishes of some one else.

"Having the courage of conviction" is an excellent thing so long as we do not insist that the other fellow substitute our beliefs for his own. So, when two mature women of strong opinion meet—"where comes the tug of war?"

I really don't think that mature women are less opinionated than young; but I do think that they are less likely to express that conviction in the face of an opposite one—especially if it is uttered by their superior. The truly successful wife is not the one who subordinates her will to that of her lord; said a husband, and a keen analyst of women, "but the one who is wise enough to make him believe she agrees—and then follows the serene tenor of her way. No real man has any respect for the opinion of a woman who sets her husband up as a dictator. That's the woman who makes a man behave like a school-yard bully. Nor will he long endure the woman who over-whelms him with floods of wordy argument. But there's something about the one who agrees with you smilingly, with that little glint in her eye that says: 'Of course, I intend to do it anyway,' and circumvents you with the most flatteringly abundant and convincing man's interest and commands his respect."

I rather think women are more prone to force their beliefs and

By a unique and perfectly harmless method, any woman afflicted with a growth of superfluous hair can now remove the unsightly growth completely—without the use of a razor. Phalactine is a new scientific discovery. The wonderful phalactine process is a completely new method of hair removal. It is the only thing that enables one to remove roots and all in one's own home, without expert assistance. The result cannot be doubted, for the user sees the hair-roots with her own eyes. A stick of phalactine, with simple instructions, can be procured at any drug store. It is odorless, non-irritating, non-poisonous (a chemical test at it without injury). The method is so thorough that the skin is left perfectly smooth and hairless, bearing out the latest evidence of its former blemish.—(Advertisement.)

Gloves and the flat purse may match, according to recent importations in a leading smart shop. An interesting example is in one of the new browns, the purse covered with silk, embroidered in a leaf design in Autumnal tints and the gaudy linings of silk likewise embroidered.

The same shop displays cloaks in Titians, various smooth surfaced fabrics being employed. A novel note is the application of geometrical motifs formed from the fur—usually of seal—upon the somewhat voluminous skirt of the wrap. Collars of fur are also evinced.

The same shop displays cloaks in Titians, various smooth surfaced fabrics being employed. A novel note is the application of geometrical motifs formed from the fur—usually of seal—upon the somewhat voluminous skirt of the wrap. Collars of fur are also evinced.

Court Refuses Motion to File Amended Complaint in Action Against White

Motion of Ann Luther, actress, for permission to file an amended and supplemental complaint in the suit for $100,000 damages she brought against J. J. White, mining man and picture producer, for breach of contract, was denied yesterday by Judge Valentine in the Superior Court.
 Ray Howard, attorney for the actress, argued in favor of the motion, which was resisted by J. J. White. Howard stated that the actress had been damaged by the breach of contract, and that she was entitled to the full amount of the damages. Judge Valentine, however, ruled that the motion was not timely, and that the actress had waited too long to file the amended complaint.

HAMMER CLEW IN MURDER HUNT

Redlands Officers Seek for Mexican Youth

Think Robbery Was Motive
for Brutal Crime

Victim Was Tied and Gagged
by His Slayer

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
REDLANDS, July 30.—A blood-stained hammer, found underneath a pile of clothing, gave authorities here today the first real clue to the slayer of Barnabe Romero, found beaten and choked to death in a house in Ohio street, Monday. The discovery of the crimson-dyed hammer, Marshal Thomas declared, solved definitely the manner in which the victim came to his death and will result in a short time in the capture of the slayer.

The hammer was found underneath some old clothing in a corner of the house in which Romero was done to death. It is the belief of Marshal Thomas that the mur-derer, awaiting his opportunity for some time, felled Romero with a blow on the head and then bound and gagged him.

The victim, it is believed, was knocked unconscious and then believed to have regained consciousness but in his struggle to free himself from the gag and his choked to death. Romero is believed to have been attacked Saturday, though his body was not discovered for almost forty-eight hours.

A Mexican youth, slight of build and light of complexion, about 19 years of age, is being sought by the authorities in connection with the brutal murder.
It was learned by investigators that the youth lived with his parents in a small house in the city. He worked with one of the fruit-picking gangs in the area and was known to several of the gangs. He was described as a relative who called at the home to see him. He reported to the authorities and search for the slayer was begun at once.

CITY TO REGULATE REAL ESTATE AGENTS

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
LONG BEACH, July 30.—Long Beach, where real estate agents and salesmen swarm like bees, and where there is a seller of real estate for every three people in town, is going to regulate their trade. Councilmen Cover and Calhoun now are drafting an ordinance which, if adopted, will make every salesman of house and lots in the city get up a bond of $1000 before he can offer his wares.

The proposed ordinance is favored by the Long Beach Realty Board. Brokers are now bonded by the state for $1000, and they are supposed to be responsible for the acts of their salesmen, but the Council has been deluged with complaints about salesmen who, it is claimed, fail to live up to their agreements and promise in real estate transactions. There are more than 3500 persons engaged in the selling of real estate in Long Beach, according to reports made to the Council.

PROFESSOR PAYS FINE

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
SANTA ANA, July 30.—It cost
J. W. Du Mond, 33, of Pasadena, electrical engineering instructor at the California Institute of Technology, $25 in Justice J. B. Cora's court for giving a traffic officer "a piece of his mind" and Mrs.
Blanche Du Mond, his 31-year-old wife, a like amount for grasping his coat lapels and giving the officer

Likewise they spent the night in were accused by H. S. Warner and Louis Heffner, State motorcycle police men, of having become miffed because a siren was sounded and of venting their anger on the officers in a manner the officers considered as disorderly.

Both police passed Du Mond's vehicle on Laguna street after sounding a siren. Du Mond raced after them and before interested spectators accused, in no uncertain words, the officers of deliberately using the siren to frighten Mrs. Du Mond.

ANNEXATION HINGES ON TECHNICALITIES

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)
WALNUT PARK, July 30.—Although the majority of the members of the Walnut Park Improvement Association are favorable to the preliminary steps to be taken calling for an annexation election to Los Angeles, there are only two drawbacks, the first and most important being that of the failure of any strip of ground connecting this community with any of the surrounding cities of the city of Los Angeles. The section is, that of welding Florence avenue, which has been taken up by the Los Angeles County Planning Commission, and with the Council Board of Supervisors, the latter having already posted notice of intention.
As to the connection of boundary lines, the Miramonte-Florence district is between these two boundaries and it will be impossible for this place to have an election, and if voted favorably the Miramonte-Florence territory also votes on the same proposition.
The Miramonte-Florence district will not take steps, it is understood, in the annexation proposition until Florence avenue is made a 100-foot boulevard, according to the plans of the Regional Commission.

NO DAMAGES IN SLANDER SUIT

City Treasurer Fails to Win Case

Defendant Admits Calling

Jury Deliberates One Hour
After Three-Day Trial

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SANTA ANA, July 30.—A jury in Superior Judge Williams' court, returned a verdict today in favor of Lee Pfau, real-estate man of Balboa, defendant in a suit for $150,000 damages for asserted slander brought by Lew H. Wallace, president of the First National Bank of Newport Beach. Mr. Wallace was for thirteen years treasurer of that city and formerly a member of the Harbor Board of Orange county.

The verdict followed a trial of three days during which considerable interest has been manifest by city and county officials and business leaders of the county.
A significant angle of the case centered about the admission by Pfau on the witness stand that he called Wallace a "crook" and a "graffer," that he said he dominated the Harbor Board, now nonexistent.

The suit was brought by Wallace following statements asserted to have been made by Pfau regarding the former's conduct of the affairs of city treasury, of which Wallace was treasurer, and charging that Wallace influenced the expenditure of $550, 000 of the harbor bonds to benefit tidal lands owned by Wallace. These assertions, Wallace contended, jeopardized his standing as a public official and attacked his honesty and integrity.

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF MISSIONARY

San Bernardino Woman
Dies While on Church Duty
in Far-Off India

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN BERNARDINO, July 30.—
Word of the death of his daughter, Mrs. Marian Brooks, a Presbyterian missionary, and her infant child, in India, was received today by George P. Skinner of San Bernardino. Mrs. Skinner, who a year ago went to India to attend the wedding of Mrs. Brooks, was at the bedside when her daughter died last Saturday.

A cablegram telling of the death of Mrs. Brooks, formerly a society girl, was relayed to the father by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, New York.

Mrs. Brooks was 31 years old and had served as a medical missionary in India for the last three and one-half years, representing the First Presbyterian Church of Pasadena.
She was a graduate of the San Bernardino High School, Pomona College and the California Hospital
of Los Angeles.

Just a year ago, her mother, Mrs.
Skinner, went to India where she attended a daughter's wedding.
The young missionary was the bride of Adin Brooks, a chemist and professor at the Institute of Agriculture at Allahabad, about 200 miles from Calcutta, where the couple were married. The marriage occurred September 29 at Faropore.

It was at Landour, Mussoorie, near the beautiful Vale of Kashmir that Mrs. Brooks succumbed just after having become a mother.
The babe lived but a few hours.
The mother and child will probably be interred at Landour.

News of the death of Mrs. Brooks shocked San Bernardino, her home city. Active in church and social life, she had been suffering from medical education.
She was a graduate of the San Bernardino High School, Pomona College and the California Hospital
of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Skinner will probably begin her sorrowful journey home next week. Mr. Skinner

SLUGGERS FELL THREE VICTIMS

Cruel Beatings Administered in Robbery Attacks

Bandit Trio Leave Motorist Senseless in Auto

Ammonia-Dazed Man Kicked Brutally by Pair

Sluggers and bandits attacked and brutally beat three victims in various sections of the city during the course of their activities yesterday morning, according to reports to police.

B. G. Carr of 440 Wilmer street encountered two highwaymen, one of them dressed completely in black and wearing a blue handkerchief draped about the lower part of his face, near Twenty-fifth and Alameda streets. He responded to the bandits' command of "stick 'em up" by taking out with his fist. The butt of a gun descended on his head and the bandits, after taking $18 from their victim, left him unconscious on the street.

SIX IN VICTIM'S CAR
Harry J. Johnson of 1118 Twelfth avenue, came out of a store at Seventh and Alameda streets to find two strangers sitting in his car and a third leaning nonchalantly beside it.

"That's the idea," he asked. "Just forget ideas, get in here and drive south," was the reply. He saw two revolvers pointed at him and promptly obeyed. After driving a few blocks he attempted to turn into a side street. With an oath, one of the bandits brought his gun down on the head of the motorist and the latter lapsed into unconsciousness. The bandits apparently believing they had killed their victim, fled without troubling to go through his pockets.

BANDIT USES AMMONIA
The third victim of the morning was Frank S. Taylor, owner of the Vermont Creamery at 2415 Vermont avenue. He was sleeping in the back room of the establishment when awakened by the noise of falling milk cans. He hurried into the store to find two burly intruders awaiting him. The creamery proprietor, using football tactics, launched himself at the pair. He tackled one and threw him to the floor and succeeded in upsetting the second one. But the first wrenched away, got some ammonia and threw it into Taylor's face. The latter, blinded, was forced to abandon the struggle. The intruders, after bestowing a few kicks on their prostrate victim, departed.

WIFE CHARGES LAMB WAS LION

Name of Percy Didn't Fit, She Says

Mrs. Repha Lamb

LAMB is not always a lamb; in human form he can be a wild cat or even a lion and get away with it. Mrs. Repha Lamb told Judge Thompson of Superior Court yesterday at her alimony hearing.

She cited her husband as an example. His name is Percy F. Lamb, she said, but both Percy and Lamb were misnomers if one was to judge by his actions at home. He would beat her while she was asleep, she said, and sometimes she would think she was suffering from nightmares until she awakened the next morning to find her body covered with bruises.

He also blackened her eyes, drank to excess, cursed, and once said to her: "Somebody is going to get killed and that somebody might be you," she continued.

Judge Thompson, after hearing her story, awarded Mrs. Lamb $17.50 a week alimony.

ALICE LIGHT, NO GET BANKLOLL

Wong Sing's Chop Suey Cafe in 'Lucky Spot' Until He Houts Three Bandits

Wong Sing, oriental cafe owner at 404 North Los Angeles street, sang a song of jubilation and called on the spirit of Confucius and the shining waters of the far-flung Pacific to witness his joy last night when, after a short, sharp fight with three would-be hold-up men, he routed the trio and saved his money and valuables.

Sing was alone in his cafe when three men, apparently Mexicans, entered and demanded his money.

"No got money; got one chop suey," Sing replied. The three swarthy visitors got busy. The fight ended when the three men took to their heels and escaped in a motor car. Officers Boen and Hamilton noted the fleeing trio and fired several ineffectual shots after them.

"One good fighter; maybe, whelp Dempsey," grinned Sing as he related the story to the police.

Boy Scout Saves Woman Who Has Severed Artery

Saved from probable death from a severed artery through the skill of Alphon Phillips, Troop 58, Boy Scouts of Los Angeles, Mrs. Oliver Adams, 5000 Eleventh avenue, Angeles Mesa, is recovering at her home. She had reached the point of unconsciousness from loss of blood when the Scout came to her assistance.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Adams was attempting to repair a broken water faucet. There was no physician within call and neighbors did not know what to do until one of them remembered that a Scout lived near by. Phillips was summoned and, applying tourniquet, stopped the flow of blood. He then applied proper bandages and restored Mrs. Adams to consciousness. When a physician came he found his work anticipated. Troop 58, to which Scout Phillips belongs, is attached to Mesa Congregational Church, Sixth avenue and Fifty-fourth street, and E. J. Truett, Jr., of the Elliott & Horne brokerage firm is Scout Master.

A recommendation that Kenneth Douglas, Troop 51, be awarded heroism honors for saving five lives, "at the risk of his own," in the Home Development School fire at Playa del Rey several weeks ago, has been made by a committee of citizens to the local headquarters of the Boy Scouts. The report is accompanied by a series of sworn statements from eyewitnesses.

DUNLAP GUN IS IDENTIFIED

Hold-up Victim Says Badge Bandit Stole Revolver from Him, Plan to Change Plea Denied

The revolver with which Harry Dunlap, badge bandit, is suspected of having used in his scores of crimes was identified yesterday by one of the victims from whom it was stolen. According to Capt. Bright of Sheriff Traxler's homicide squad, the identification of the weapon directly connects Dunlap with a highway robbery and will be the principal exhibit in the case that probably will be chosen for the one for which Dunlap will be placed on trial.

Following the tracing of the ownership of the gun, a conference was held in Dist. Atty. Keyes's office at which, according to Capt. Bright, a suggestion was made that Dunlap now is willing to plead guilty. Those present at the conference were: Dist. Atty. Keyes, Dep. Atty. Gen. Richardson, Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff Wright, Capt. Bright and Attorney Milton Golden, counsel for Dunlap.

"Dunlap will not plead guilty," Attorney Golden stated. "I am going right on with Dunlap's case according to the original plan. That is, that he is not guilty of the crime of which the gun is charged."

Dunlap reiterated the statement made by his attorney. He declared last night that he is innocent of the crime, that he is being charged with a crime which he committed by the "Silk-Hat Bandit," who was arrested last Tuesday in Sacramento and whose lawless deeds are said to place Dunlap in the "poker" class.

"I am pleading guilty to nothing," Dunlap said.

DUNLAP TOLD OF LINK

The badge bandit was informed of the latest link of evidence forged by the Sheriff's deputies. When he was arrested in Detroit he was armed with two weapons. One was a .38 Remington-Union pistol, with the serial numbers intact upon it. Dunlap offered to give the gun to a Detroit officer, but Deputy Sheriff Dewar, who accompanied Sheriff Traxler to Detroit, began tracing the original ownership of the weapon. He telegraphed the number back to Los Angeles.

From Los Angeles, Capt. Bright telegraphed to the factory where the weapon was made. The factory had sold the gun to a hardware company. The hardware company had sold it to the Whittier Hardware Company in Whittier. The Whittier store had retained the score of other persons whose names are being withheld. These victims, according to the investigation, would probably cause the deluge of divorce suits to be filed if their identities were revealed. They are said to be married people, both men and women, who were enjoying nights out on dark roads with both men and women's husbands or wives.

While identifications of Dunlap as the badge bandit were increasing in numbers yesterday, Capt. Harvey Bell and Deputy Sheriff Peoples of the Sheriff's homicide squad were in Sacramento endeavoring to bring J. L. Edwards, the "silk hat bandit," back to Los Angeles on two murder charges and several other highway robbery charges similar to the robberies and assaults with which Dunlap is accused.

FOX SPECTACLE

NOW IT IS "NEPTUNE'S ROMANCE" WILL BE MADE

By Grace Kingsley

If a palm is to be awarded to anybody for producing spectacle pictures, that palm should go to William Fox, according to the present outlook.

No sooner has Henry Otto finished Dante's "Inferno" than, having his hand in, as you might say, he decides to go ahead and make another of the big allegorical spectacles. This time Otto will film a story called "Neptune's Romance," written by himself. (No, Mack Sennett has nothing to do with it.)

"Neptune's Romance" will be, according to the Fox promises, one of the biggest productions yet to be turned out by that organization. It is to have an all-star cast, to be announced later.

Naturally undersea stuff will form a large part of the spectacle, and this part of the story Mr. Otto promises will beat anything of the kind ever put on the screen. All devices so far known for photographing under-the-sea pictures will be used, with some entirely new effects promised.

Wally MacDonald Writes in Taking scenes in a forest fire and then turning around and helping to put out the blaze was the experience of Wallace MacDonald and others of a picture company working at Big Bear. MacDonald comes an interesting letter:

"We motored here from Victorville across a very hot desert, making the climb into the pines until we are now 10,000 feet up. The scenery is gorgeous, and the roads good."

"We needed forest fire scenes in the picture, and Saturday fairly had one broke out on the other side of the lake. Careless of some campers. We rushed over with two cameras and shot some very excellent scenes and rescued the campers. We had four hours' hard work and the fire under control had later got it out entirely."

"Not much excitement otherwise, outside of one man almost drowning, another having his hand cut open, another being run over by a horse and most of us suffering from burns from making the fire scenes and helping fight the conflagration."

"Adios. Must go out now and see killed. That's my fate in every picture lately. If a cat has nine lives, how many has an actor?"

Marguerite Zender in it

Marguerite Zender, musical comedy star, is having a nice vacation among the pines, unusually pretty. She will remain in California several weeks longer, after which she will go to New York to begin rehearsals in "Whistling Time," a new musical comedy by Harry Edwards, which she wrote. "Belle, Irene and Mary," which Miss Zender starred several months, Eddie Dowling also appears in his new production.

Eddie Phillips in it

James Hogan yesterday signed the popular juvenile and character actor, Eddie Phillips, to a leading role in the famous dog story, "Black Lightning," now under way at the Hollywood Studios, under Hogan's personal direction. Phillips is at the same time the lead opposite Edith Thornton in her first starring vehicle, "Virtue's Revolt," made by the Hutchinson Productions.

Gaston Glass is here

Gaston Glass has returned to Hollywood, following a season on the stage and in pictures in the East and in New Orleans. He will return to picture work here.

Claire Windsor Vacations

Claire Windsor is having a short vacation for the first time in nine months. She has returned from work for a while, where she was in small son, and will go to San Diego for the regatta with Don Lee and his family.

Another Peter Pan

From inside sources it is learned that up to date, Peter Pan is the favorite candidate for the role of "Peter Pan." Thousands of friends are pulling for her, too.

Estelle Taylor Undecided

Estelle Taylor will be in the parade tomorrow, but up to last night was undecided as to how she should appear in it. She didn't know whether she should require a lion cub from the Al G. Barnes Circus and chain him to her side with a gold collar and chain, or have Jack Dempsey ride beside her disguised in long, white whiskers; but I believe she decided on the middle course of appearing beautifully dressed in French blue chiffon with a blue picture hat and tossing roses to the multitude.

Harry Carroll's New Revue

Harry Carroll, now at the Orpheum, and Arthur Freid have taken over the Grand-avenue Theatre, and are going to rename it the Orange Grove, giving it elaborate new decoration.

A big revue is being written by Carroll, in which important New York players will take part, with names to be announced later.

Dempsey Feels Accident Effects

While Jack Dempsey is back at work for Universal, his automobile wreck experiences didn't do him any good, it seems. He is suffering from severe headaches and has a large lump at the back of his neck. The champion is undergoing treatment for the trouble.

Here and There

Ian Keith has been signed by E. M. Asher for a part in Corinne Griffith's next picture, "Wilderness."

Creston Hale writes in from location near Tucson, Ariz., that he is busy killing rattlesnakes when not pursuing his art as a leading player in Sol Lesser's production, "The Mine With the Iron Door."

"He killed a rattler as big as his arm, he says, diverting it if of nineteen rattles."

Vera Gordon has gone East to star in a stage play in New York.

Lloyd Whitlock Signs

Lloyd Whitlock has been signed to play a featured role in the William De Mille production, "The Fast Set," at the Lasky studio, was run ragged when Zasu Pitts began to "roll her own."

The actress, who is featured in the production with Betty Compson, Adolphe Menjou and Elliott Dexter, had never smoked and looked forward in dismay to that scene in the film in which she was to make the first attempt. Dismay turned to consternation when she discovered that she also had to roll her own.

For more than a week Miss Pitts used up great amounts of tobacco and cigarette paper, tilting the floor about her chair for many yards with "mis-rolls."

Finally, she announced with great gusto that she had discovered the secret and preferred to roll them for all the members of the De Mille unit.
